Stability

Seakeeper 10 gyro stabilizer

It reduces roll, the side-to-side motion of the yacht, at anchor and under way. It is the equipment that matters most to guests prone to seasickness: meals, rest and swimming with the yacht steady.

1

Inside a vacuum-sealed enclosure, a flywheel spins at thousands of revolutions per minute.

2

When a wave heels the yacht, the flywheel tilts fore and aft and generates a force that counters the roll.

A hydraulic system controls this motion continuously, with no parts outside the hull.
